POW's Held, Reporter for Reds Admits

Jet Ace, Other Fliers 'Special Prisoners,' Correspondent Says

PANMUNJOM (AP)—A Red source admitted today for the first time that the Communists are holding back some Allied war prisoners who want to go home.

A Communist correspondent, Wilfred Burchett, said a crack U. S. jet pilot and an undisclosed number of other Allied airmen are being held as special prisoners because the Communists say they were shot down over Manchuria—forbidden territory to Allied pilots in the Korean War.

Lever to Get in U.N.

A repatriated American Air Force major, David F. MacGhee of Tampa, Fla., said earlier this week he had learned from an "extremely reliable" Chinese Red that the Communists planned to intern 22 U. S. fliers in Manchuria "until the United States recognizes (Red) China."

Allied officers have said unofficially there may be other airmen still held by the Communists and one source said the number totaled about 35.

Burchett of the Paris L'Humanite, who often reflects official Red thinking, said one of the prisoners is double jet ace, Capt. Harold E. Fischer Jr. of Swea City, Iowa.

Burchett said release of the airmen would have to be negotiated through "diplomatic channels" but he did not elaborate.

The Allied Command demanded Wednesday that the Reds account for about 3,500 allied troops—944 of them Americans—who were known once to be prisoners, but who were not released in the recent POW exchange.

Await Formal Reply

The Communists have indicated they would reject the demand, but have not said when they would reply officially.

Fischer, who disappeared last April 7, became one of the hottest pilots in Korea by scorning his radar gunsight and shooting down Red MIG jets like ducks.

The Red Peiping radio said April 9 the 27-year-old flier was captured after being shot down in a dogfight over Manchuria. His wingman last saw him battling a Red fighter near the Yalu River boundary of Manchuria.

The Reds obviously were on a spot in the Fischer case—they previously had said they sent back all Allied prisoners who wanted to go home, yet their official Peiping radio had admitted he was captured alive.

Oppose Communism

Meanwhile, the first of 14,700 Chinese war prisoners who have renounced communism arrived in the Korean neutral zone shaking their fists and shouting, "Death to the Communists," at Red observers.

Nearly 1,000 anti-Communist Chinese entered the newly-built stockades at the sprawling "Indian Village" near Panmunjom, where they will be guarded by Indian troops.

Most wore undershirts stamped with the Chinese Nationalist sunburst flag. Many were tattooed with anti-Communist slogans.

The prisoners filed one by one through barbed wire lines and were fingerprinted by the Indians.

U.N. and Communist observers watched the operation.

An interpreter said the captives

Quits Cabinet In Row Over Taft-Hartley

Recommendations on Labor Law Changes Spurned, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—An uneasy political honeymoon between President Eisenhower and organized labor appeared ended today with the abrupt and angry resignation of Martin P. Durkin as secretary of labor.

Durkin, a union leader and a Democrat, quit his Cabinet post with a charge that the Eisenhower administration had broken an agreement with him on recommendations to be made in changing the controversial Taft-Hartley labor law

Side With Durkin

Presidents George Meany of the AFL and Walter Reuther of the CIO quickly sided with Durkin and accused Eisenhower of failing to live up to promises made to organized labor.

There was no comment from Eisenhower, outside of a letter accepting Durkin's resignation and praising his service as secretary.

"It has long been a tradition in the labor movement that once an agreement is reached the parties abide by it," Meany said. "Mr. Durkin is schooled in that tradition. He resigned because he could not continue serving on a team where agreements are not kept."

Meany and Reuther and their organizations, as did most of the rest of organized labor's leaders, supported Democrat Adlai Stevenson against Eisenhower in last fall's presidential elections.

Choice Was Surprise

After his landslide victory, Eisenhower surprised nearly everyone by choosing Durkin, a staunch Democrat and president of the AFL's plumbers union, for the labor Cabinet post. Durkin himself expressed surprise and the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) called the appointment "incredible."

The selection was widely regarded as an effort by the new administration to woo union support, since they had comprised the largest single segment of the country opposed to the Republicans.

This opposition came mainly from union leaders. It was apparent from the size of the Eisenhower vote that many workers, including many union members, had voted Republican.

With Durkin's appointment most union leaders adopted a "wait and see" attitude toward the new administration. The statements of Meany and Reuther, accusing the administration of breaking faith with organized labor, seemed to indicate a parting of the ways.

Claims Promises Broken

The 59-year-old Durkin told a packed news conference late yesterday he had submitted his resignation Aug. 31, ten days earlier, when he became convinced the administration had "broken" commitments with him on proposed changes in the Taft-Hartley law.

"I feel they are not going to car-

Mighty Blast Rips Cleveland Street, 1 Dead

Pavement Torn Up For Three-Quarters of A Mile, 58 Are Hurt

CLEVELAND (AP)—A street blew up here yesterday—blew up along a ¾ mile stretch, hurling big concrete chunks and manhole covers up among hundreds of stunned rush-hour motorists and pedestrians, killing one and injuring 58. At least two of the injured were in critical condition.

The cause of the mighty underground explosion along West 117th St., a main crosstown artery, still was sought today. Firemen first said it was a broken gas main. But the gas company said their mains probably broke after exploding sewer gas let go.

Mrs. Katherine Szabo, 40, who was driving her brother home from work, died at a hospital. The brother, Robert Gbur, 27, who was injured only slightly said:

"I was talking to her, and we had just cleared the underpass (near Berea Rd.) when it happened. It caved the whole roof in from the top of one door to the next door sill."

Assistant Fire Chief Ferdinand Boehmer estimated total damage to paving and utility lines at "no less than five million dollars."

Fallen utility poles, broken glass, twisted pipes littered the street, which connects Cleveland and its largest suburb, Lakewood. Flying manhole covers slashed through roofs of several homes.

Water from broken mains flooded the mess. A strong odor of escaping gas sent many of the thousands of sightseers retreating.

When the street exploded, some motorists clung to steering wheels as their cars overturned.

"My car went about six feet in the air and concrete roadway was breaking up all around me. I was terrified," one man said.

An automobile salesman, Andy Anderson, said he "thought someone dropped a 500-pound bomb. A hole 30 by 18 feet was ripped out right in front of our store. Autos were flipped over on their sides and tops."

Among the injured was Edward D. Kuekes, who earlier this year won a Pulitzer Prize for cartoon work. The Cleveland Plain Dealer artist's wife, Clare, and their son, Edward G., 28, of Austin, Tex., all were hospitalized but were not in serious condition.

Mrs. Eleanor Rinaldi, 24, critically injured, lay trapped in her car for more than an hour and

Brownell Asks For Full Probe Of 4 Percenters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell today ordered his aides to dig to the bottom of reports of influence peddling in connection with government contracts in a follow-up to disclosures this week by a House committee.

He emphasized he is particularly interested in finding out if any federal employe has "leaked" secret information which would give any one business group an advantage over another in obtaining such contracts.

Brownell said the matter is under "full investigation by the FBI and if culprits are discovered, prompt prosecution will follow." He added:

"Businessmen are put on notice that it is neither necessary nor wise to attempt to buy influence under the present administration."

His announcement followed publication by the House armed services subcommittee of testimony in which Warren L. Stephenson, prominent Washington, D. C. Republican, admitted he had attempted to obtain a four per cent commission from a California firm in exchange for obtaining a larger contract for making Navy rocket launchers.

U.S. Called On To Prop World Monetary Fund

55-Nation Conference Proposes $4 Billion Backlog of U.S. Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP)—Talk was revived at the 55-nation financial conference here today of a four-billion-plus "stabilization fund" of American dollars to steady the ups and downs of foreign currencies.

British delegates, as well as some American officials and others, reportedly are interested in the possibility of such an arrangement.

Up to Congress

It could only be created by Congress since prevailing high interest rates presumably would rule out private sources. It would supplement the currency resources of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) in meeting the temporary dollar needs of some nations.

So far as is known, no formal proposal of this kind ever has been presented to the U. S. government or to the IMF. The most discussed proposal, however, is that Congress set up a sum as "lending authority" rather than as an appropriation. The IMF would use it as needed, repaying as its own money came back in. The fund might be administered by the U.S government or, if Congress were willing, by the IMF.

Not Enough Resources

In much more general terms, Sir Reginald Maudling, economic secretary to the British Treasury, told the 8th annual meeting of the governors of the monetary fund and the World Bank yesterday that IMF's resources are "not in our opinion likely to be big enough" for the job ahead.

The job is that of making British sterling and other restricted moneys of the world convertible—that is exchangeable into dollars and other "hard" currencies—as a major step toward freer international trade.

Sir Reginald did not elaborate. But some delegates expressed the belief his words could be interpreted in only two ways—either that IMF's dollar holdings should be increased, or that a supplemental source of dollars and other wanted currencies should be available.

Steps Toward Training Area Purchase Begin

First step in the program to purchase the Marion Training School from the federal government was taken Wednesday, when the state board of control released $271,848 for the purchase of a 1,243-acre tract at the school.

The money is the first of the original $625,000 appropriated by the Ohio Legislature to buy the land, which has been used. The program was designed to permit the state to expand the school into a maximum security prison, similar to the Mansfield Reformatory.

Under terms of the lease signed with the federal government, the school previously could be used only for educational programs and for juvenile offenders. Purchase of the site eliminates the restrictions imposed by the lease.

According to The Associated Press, the state will not purchase the buildings on the site. The government has indicated that it would remove the structures by Oct. 1, 1955.

According to officials at the

Army Feuding With McCarthy Over Security

Say Senator Disclosed Restricted Information In Press Interview

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said today Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) disclosed restricted information—a violation of law—when he released excerpts from an intelligence report on Siberia.

McCarthy showed reporters photographic copies of 70 pages of the 75-page document on Wednesday, contending it smacked of "clear cut Communist propaganda."

McCarthy acted as chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee which has been looking into Army security.

In a statement, the Army said the document was intended for limited distribution to intelligence officers "to develop understanding of the Soviet people which will be militarily useful in case of war."

"It is obvious," the statement continued, "that the necessary instruction of officers and men in this field cannot proceed without attempting to enter the mind and thought processes of the Soviet citizen."

An Army spokesman showed reporters an original copy of the document containing on the inside cover this notation:

"This document contains information affecting the national defense of the United States within the meaning of espionage laws, Title 18, Section S793 and 794. The transmission or the revelation of its contents in any manner to an unauthorized person is prohbited by law."

The Army said it declassified the document from its restricted status yesterday but emphasized this was done only "as a result of prior disclosure."

"Restricted" is the lowest of several secrecy classifications the military services place on documents.

The Army statement contended McCarthy had withheld from his releases sections which would have made clear the document was not Communist propaganda.

Final Respects Paid to Vinson In Louisa, Ky.

LOUISA, Ky. (AP)—The red brick Methodist church here will contain but a fraction of those expected to come today to pay final tribute to Louisa's most distinguished son.

But funeral services for Chief Justice Fred Vinson will be relayed by loud speakers to the city square.

Vinson died at the age of 63 of a heart attack in Washington Tuesday.

The funeral service, at the request of his family, will be brief, with no eulogy and few flowers. It will be held at 3 p. m. EST with the Rev. Charles Perry officiating. He will also speak the final words at the Pine Hill Cemetery on a hill overlooking Louisa.

Besides the immediate family and other relatives, places in the church have been reserved for Vinson's associate justices, who are honorary pallbearers, Gov. Lawrence Wetherby and Sens. Earle C. Clements and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, Gov. William C. Marland of West Virginia, Lt. Gov. Emerson Beauchamp and Atty. Gen. J. D. Buckman Jr. of Kentucky, and judges and commissioners of the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

A special train bearing the body of the Kentuckian, arrived in the fog at the Louisa railroad station at 6:45 a. m.

Sharrock Said Insane, Ordered Into Hospital

Herman Dale Sharrock, 39-year-old Marion man indicted by the grand jury on two counts of attempted arson, was ordered committed to the Lima State Hospital this morning by Common Pleas Court Judge Paul D. Smith.

Sharrock was returned yesterday by Marion County sheriff's deputies from Lima where he had been under observation and had been found legally insane.

Also brought back to Marion from the Lima hospital were Paul E. Holycross, 18-year-old Marion youth charged with setting industrial fires in Marion causing estimated damages of $227,000, and Roland Dilling, 18-year-old California youth, charged with breaking and entering a Marion County home and taking a loaded revolver and knife valued at approximately $65.

The report from the Lima hospital psychiatrists indicated that Dilling "can be considered legally sane" but no conclusive decision about the sanity of Holycross was given, other than that he "may be devloping mental disorder."

Ike Pondering Vinson, Durkin Replacements

President Reported Hard at Work Over Tough Assignments

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower faced the task today of picking two men to fill highly important government posts—a chief justice to succeed Fred M. Vinson and a secretary of labor to replace Martin P. Durkin.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen he had no idea when either selection might be announced, but he said the President was hard at work on both assignments.

Eisenhower arranged to confer at his vacation headquarters here with Vice President Nixon, who flew back to Denver with the chief executive last night from Washington where they attended funeral services for Vinson.

Nixon and Eisenhower, together with a group of presidential aides, reportedly discussed both the court and labor posts in Washington and it appeared likely they would continue the discussion today.

There were indications, too, that Len W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, had joined in the talk of a successor to Durkin. Hall also flew to Denver with the President, and was going on today to a GOP rally at Yellowstone National Park.

Scarcely had Eisenhower left Washington when the news broke that Durkin had quit the Cabinet. He contended that the administration ran out on pledges to amend the controversial Taft-Hartley labor law.

The White House made public Eisenhower's letter accepting Durkin's resignation. The President's office here later released Durkin's Aug. 31 letter saying he was quitting.

Neither letter mentioned Durkin's reasons for resigning. Durkin set those forth at a Washington news conference.

Regime 'Disorganized'

Congress Crowding Ike, Political Scientists Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Political Science Assn. was told today that the Eisenhower administration has become disorganized by letting Congress move in on White House authority.

Dr. Herman M. Somers, chairman of the Haverford (Pa.) College's department of political science, had both praise and criticism for the administrative policies of the Republican regime.

Decline in Leadership

In a paper prepared for delivery to the association, he observed that the broad lines of administrative action to date have been "thoughtful and sound." On the other hand, he commented, there has been "a dramatic net decline in the role and leadership of the executive which has had a stunning effect on the bureaucracy."

The latter condition has come about, Somers said, by either the "abdication to Congress, or the permitted usurpation by Congress of executive authority, which has been the source of basic difficulties for the executive branch."

Federal Prestige Low

Somers expressed great interest in what he called President Eisenhower's attempt to make use of the Cabinet as a body in which basic decisions are made "collectively".

But he said "no one can recall a time when the prestige of federal employment was at a lower

The Oatis Story

Remember when William N. Oatis, Associated Press foreign correspondent, returned to this country last May after more than two years in jail in Czechoslovakia?

Oatis hasn't been in the news much since but after suitable time for rest, medical treatment and research, he returned to his typewriter to write his own story of his experiences as an AP foreign correspondent and as a prisoner of the Communists.

OATIS

The resulting articles, telling of his arrest, the long questioning that resulted in his "confession," and his trial and ordeal in prison, are as intensely interesting as they are easy to read.

They will be published in the Star in five installments, starting next Monday. Don't miss them!

(A preliminary article on Oatis is on Page 2 in today's paper).

Political Coup Fails

Break in Cabinet Ranks Finds Democrats Gleeful

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Martin P. Durkin's sudden bow-out as secretary of labor rang down the curtain in less than eight months on a bold political stroke attempted by President Eisenhower and his advisers.

Democrats, openly gleeful over the break in Cabinet ranks, quickly predicted the administration would not find another man with a strong union background to take the post.

One Democratic senator, Maybank of South Carolina, commented: "I would seriously suggest that others (in the Cabinet) should resign."

Sen. Hill (D-Ala), a long-time member of the Senate Labor Committee, said in an interview: "They'll never get another Marty Durkin for the job. They'll have to take someone now who is willing to march in the ranks of the Taft-Hartleyites."

This reference to the controversial Taft-Hartley labor relations law struck at the heart of Durkin's falling out with the administration. In handing in his resignation, Durkin accused the White House—but not Eisenhower personally — of breaking an agreement with him to seek 19 specific proposed changes in the law.

Maybank said he was not surprised at the resignation, because he said "This administration has not done anything for labor, for

'Not Quite the Way It Was'

Oatis Worked Hard To Be Exact in Story of Ordeal

NEW YORK (AP) — "That's not quite the way it was—"

William N. Oatis, AP correspondent freed by the zechs Cafter two years' imprisonment, was discussing an angle of his own story (Starting Monday in The Star).

An editor, as editors will, had suggested perhaps a certain passage in Oatis' original draft was too long. Couldn't it be abridged by saying such-and-such?

"No," said Bill Oatis, "that's not quite the way it was."

He was insisting his own story be, in every fact, his own story. He insisted on that throughout the several weeks he was at work on the series of articles.

Oatis started preliminary work on the story while he was still undergoing medical treatment. Doctors suspected he had tuberculosis, aggravated by months in jail cells that many times were cold in winter. First he was forbidden to work; then the doctors said he could work one hour a day—no more.

"But they can't keep me from thinking the other 23 hours," he said at the time. Many of those hours he spent searching his memory along the tortuous route he had followed. He had taken no notes out of prison. He had only his own reporter-trained memory to go by.

There were things to look into, too. Oatis needed detailed maps of the Prague area, to orient himself. He had to study the transcript of the trial as it had been prepared by observers for the U.S. State Department (which denounced his trial as a travesty of justice). He wanted also to see the texts of some of the Czech laws that ostensibly provided the basis of the case against him. He referred frequently to a Czech dictionary, and called upon his own command of the language.

All this time Oatis was, in effect, back in prison. He could look out at the trees on the nearby Westchester Hills, but not venture among them. Doctor's orders.

Finally, after a month's treatment, the tests all showed negative. Oatis came down a broad highway alongside the Hudson River, one sunny afternoon, and took up life in a Manhattan apartment. There he was able to buckle down to serious work on his story. In the hospital he had dictated some preliminary material to his wife Laurabelle, seated before a typewriter at his bedside. Now he manned the "mill" himself, and he was back in the element.

When he entered newspaper work in Marion, Ind., 20 years before, he had never dreamed of writing such a story. Reporters are expected to report the news, not to make it. But here, through a sequence of unusual developments, he had a story of his own that needed to be told. And he insisted, as he went along, that it be as accurate and objective as he could make it. He changed many a word to get just the meaning he wanted. He rewrote many paragraphs in an effort to make the account as clear as possible.

Today the story is complete, and Oatis is looking into vacation timetables. Later he will undertake a new assignment for The Associated Press.

Mother of Nine Will Seek Mrs. America Title in New Jersey

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (AP)—Mrs. Anna Spada, 29-year-old mother of nine children, will represent New Jersey in the Mrs. America contest here Sunday.

Shivering in a nylon crepe bathing suit, she won the title of Mrs. New Jersey over six wedded beauties at Palisades Amusement Park last night.

She'll compete against 31 contestants from all over the country for the Mrs. America title and more than $10,000 in prize money.

Mrs. Spada, whose children range in age from eight months to eight years, is the wife of 31-year-old Marius Spada, a Whippany soap works foreman.

Spada wasn't on hand for his wife's victory last night.

"I told him to stay home and take care of the children," Mrs. Spada revealed.

PATROLMEN ARREST 3

Three arrests were made Thursday by highway patrolmen from the Marion post. Persons arrested, their charge and disposition of cases follow: Albert Bordner, 37, of Wooster, speeding, fined $15 and costs by Mayor Harold Koehler at Upper Sandusky; Clarence A. Miller, 36, of Norwalk, speeding, cited to appear in Municipal Court Sept. 12; Omar Stewart, 31, of Columbus, passing over the yellow line, cited to appear Sept. 12 in Municipal Court.

Loses Battle for Changes

Taft-Hartley Fight Led To Durkin's Resignation

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — For eight months as secretary of labor, Martin P. Durkin acted meek and mild. Yesterday, he quit with a blast at the White House, although not specifically at President Eisenhower.

In the eight months, he stayed pretty much out of sight, making only a few speeches, and holding no more than six news conferences, including yesterday's when he disclosed his resignation.

He worked behind the scenes to get changes in the Taft-Hartley labor relations law, which Eisenhower had said needed changing. As recently as Aug. 25 Durkin expressed confidence he was making progress.

On Aug. 31 he handed in his resignation, effective yesterday. He would not explain at yesterday's news conference what happened in those six days between Aug. 25 and 31 except to say that he had an agreement from the White House that the Eisenhower administration would push for 19 changes in T-H and that the agreement had been broken.

Here is the background:

Last Dec. 31 Eisenhower tapped Durkin to be secretary of labor. Durkin, then nearing 59, was a Democrat who had voted for the Democratic presidential candidate, Adlai Stevenson. The AFL plumbers' union, of which Durkin was president, wanted T-H repealed outright.

During the presidential campaign Eisenhower had talked of changing, but not repealing, T-H. As soon as Eisenhower picked him Durkin said he thought T-H could be changed, without repeal, and still please all hands.

The reaction then of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), father of T-H and most powerful Republican in Congress, to the Durkin appointment is now historic. "Incredible," Taft said.

Durkin's reaction to Taft's reaction was this: he said he didn't think Taft had meant anything personal. It set the pattern for his eight months in Washington, until yesterday: never say anything to make anybody mad.

On Feb. 2, in his state of the union message, Eisenhower told Congress T-H should be changed promptly. The President said Durkin's Labor Department was beginning work at once on specific recommendations for Congress.

The House and Senate Labor Committees held long hearings on proposed changes in T-H. But none of the proposals came from the administration. What was more extraordinary was that Durkin never appeared before the committees.

He told his news conference yesterday he hadn't gone before the committees because the Eisenhower administration never had made up its mind on what changes it wanted.

Durkin tried calling a conference of union, management and public-at-large representatives to work out some agreements on changing T-H. This conference met and collapsed in discord.

Eisenhower himself had previously expressed belief that if labor and management could be brought together they could work out solutions to their problems.

Finally Durkin's Labor Department staff began conferences with members of Eisenhower's White House staff to reach agreement on T-H changes which the administration would offer Congress. Taft, Durkin said, sat in on some of these conferences.

Durkin said yesterday agreement was reached with the White House staff on T-H changes shortly before Taft's death, which occurred July 31, and included some changes that Taft had previously proposed.

Congress quit three days later, Aug. 3. Shortly before it quit a proposed message to Congress, containing 19 suggested changes in T-H, was widely circulated on Capitol Hill although it was never sent to Congress formally.

The White House described it as a "preliminary draft" of a message Eisenhower intended to send. Durkin says they were fair to unions and management—but business organizations criticised them as too favorable to unions.

That Durkin thought he was making progress seems apparent from what he did on Aug. 11. Peter T. Schoemann, who had succeeded Durkin as active head of the plumbers' union, blasted the administration for what he called a "pattern of plunder."

Durkin rushed to the administration's defense. He said Eisenhower had "steadfastly" adhered to the "pledge" to make amendments in T-H and even then was "actively engaged" in preparing them.

And on Aug. 25 Durkin seemed extremely optimistic. He said the President would soon send the recommendations, which he said had been agreed upon by the White House staff, to Congress.

On Aug. 31 Durkin sent his resignation to Eisenhower. He said yesterday the White House agreement with him on T-H changes had been broken. He said he was not sure Eisenhower himself had ever approved the 19 changes.

But he said he would have stayed on as secretary if Eisenhower had altered his administration's position on the changes.

Crop Forecast Scaled Down

Dry August Takes Corn Crop From Surplus List

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hot dry weather during August kept the vital corn crop from moving into a surplus supply class along with wheat, cotton, tobacco, and peanuts requiring rigid federal controls to cut back production next year.

An Agriculture Department crop report yesterday trimmed 114 million bushels, or about 3½ per cent, of the agency's previous forecast for corn, the major grain used in the production of meat animals, milk and poultry.

This reduction, putting corn at 3,216,000,000 bushels, kept supplies of the grain below a level which, under farm law, would have required Secretary of Agriculture Benson to invoke rigid marketing quotas on the 1954 crop.

Quotas already have been set up for wheat and tobacco and appear likely for cotton and peanuts.

Less restrictive planting allotments probaly will be applied to corn next year, however. Farmers are free to ignore allotments, but only those complying with them are eligible for government price support aid.

The department said production of livestock feed grains will be less than in five of the last seven years, but larger than is usually consumed in a season. With large reserves from past crops, supplies will be ample.

The livestock feed supply will be unevenly distributed, however Drought areas of the Midwest, Southwest and South will be short again as they were during the past season.

It is possible that use of feed grains during the season ahead will be larger than in most recent years because dairy and beef cattle pastures are providing less feed than normal. In fact, the condition of pastures on Sept. 1 was said to be the poorest for the date in 17 years.

As a consequence, many farmers have been forced to turn to hay and grains for feed much earlier in the fall season than normal.

The department said downturns in production prospects for corn, soybeans, spring wheat, oats, barley, flaxseed, hay, potatoes, tobacco and most fruits lowered the prospective total crop volume to the third largest of record instead of the second forecast in August.

This lower volume is still ample to meet all prospective demands.

Lawyers in St. Louis Will Get 'Internships'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Young lawyers in St. Louis will be able to serve "internships" to get courtroom experience.

Everett Hullverson, president of the Lawyers' Association of St. Louis, said yesterday he believes it is the first such plan in the nation.

Veteran trial lawyers will take the newcomers to the profession under their wings for about five jury trials, he said.

The internship, similar to that given doctors, will not be compulsory but Hullverson said many young lawyers have been anxious for such a program.

Adm. Nimitz Is Given Big Welcome in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, wartime commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, received a hero's welcome upon his arrival from California yesterday.

The admiral and his wife, Catherine, were met in the Northwestern Railroad Station by a delegation headed by Rear Adm. Francis P. Old, commandant of the 9th Naval District. Entering the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Adm. Nimitz received a 17-gun salute.

Nimitz will be guest of honor at tonight's armed forces benefit football game in Soldier Field between the Chicago Bears and Cleveland Browns.

Politics and the Supreme Court

The political tempests which whistled and roared through the Supreme Court during the thirties long since have subsided. The court makes news these days only in connection with its decisions, and even they are received calmly.

It is probably that President Eisenhower will be able to name a successor to the late Chief Justice Vinson with no more trouble than would be expected in filling a routine executive post. Two circumstances underlie the probability.

First, it no longer stirs up a controversy when politics enters into the selection of a member of the Supreme Court.

Second, President Eisenhower is conceded a clear right to name anyone he chooses to name as long as his choice is generally acceptable to Republicans. The present court has only one Republican — Associate Justice Burton of Ohio.

There once burned in the breasts of partisans an unquenchable conviction that Supreme Court justices should be above politics — at least above the politics of the opposition. Violent controversies divided congressmen and even some of the voters when men later to be honored as able and impartial justices were first appointed — men like John Marshall, Roger B. Taney, Stanley Matthews, Melville W. Fuller, Louis D. Brandeis and Charles Evans Hughes.

But for the time-being it appears that there is no congressional appetite for controversy over the Supreme Court. President Eisenhower has a free choice. The truth of a statement by Associate Justice Frankfurter, that "from the beginning they had to resolve what were essentially political issues — the proper accommodation between states and the central government," has been established by experience.

It now is conceded that the court will and must reflect the political feeling of the times in which its members are appointed. The Supreme Court, as "Mr. Dooley" observed, does follow the "iliction returns."

Truth That Makes Men Free

Nothing deflates a lie like an identical lie exposed. Communist persuaders are going to have a tough time convincing anti-Communist Koreans and Chinese in neutral prison camps in Korea that they should return to the loving care of their former masters.

There have been too many revelations of cruelty and broken promises to keep Asiatics in the dark any longer about Communist propaganda. The Asiatics are learning what workers in East Germany already have learned — that the Communists are not promoting a workers' paradise but a new system of exploitation.

East German workers have developed a high immunity to Communist propaganda. Workers in the United States have developed a high immunity. They have learned how to recognize Red propaganda when they encounter it.

The British have learned to discount the impact of Communist falsehoods. Every resident of every satellite state has grown familiar with the twistings and turnings of the famous party line.

Whether in Paris or Cairo, every knowledgeable person knows exactly how Communists foment riots and street fights, how they use goon squads and hecklers to stir up trouble. All the tricks in the Red book have been revealed, from after-dark bombings in American steel towns during the labor trouble of 1937 to chesty talk about land reform in Italy and China.

The day is not far distant when every person capable of learning will be immune to Communist lies. The truth that makes men free is not something they can be taught. It is something they must learn by experience — and experience with Communism is robbing it of its appeal to the ignorant.

Too Good To Pay Taxes

This fellow Joseph Laniel, whose idea of being premier of France is to crack down on tax dodgers and get more work out of jobholders, may turn out to be what the doctor ordered to save the French republic.

But there's a republic to be saved here in the United States, too. And part of the saving will have to be done by making sure the federal government and all other agencies of government collect what is owed to them.

Half a dozen clerks in the Denver office of the collector of internal revenue began to make income-tax checkups early this summer, using the yellow pages of the phone book. They merely matched listings with tax returns and discovered thousands of listings for which no tax returns could be found.

This is another wrinkle in a nationwide check-up of citizens who, like Grandpa in "You Can't Take It With You," have decided they don't believe in the federal income tax. All that's required is a little effort to turn up hundreds of thousands of citizens who have been shirking their duty to support the government according to their ability to pay.

France isn't the only republic in danger of being swamped by more citizens wanting to take something away from it than is being paid in by citizens willing to contribute to its support.

Adlai's Error

By David Lawrence

Communist Imperialism Is America's Foe

Adlai Stevenson has brought back from his trip around the world an impression about the attitude of many of our allies toward the United States which it is not clear how much he himself shares, but his challenge to the Eisenhower administration to line itself up with what looks like an appeasement policy in world affairs is unmistakable.

The presidential nominee of 1952 on the Democratic ticket is quoted in a copyrighted interview in "Newsweek" as saying:

"We must decide whether we are trying to destroy communism or trying to achieve a peaceful coexistence with it. The rest of the free world is alarmed by our seeming inflexibility.

"There's a suspicion that our objective is to exterminate communism. They see little prospect of obliterating communism except very gradually or by war — and they don't want war."

Mr. Stevenson makes the fatal error of assuming that communism as a philosophy or as a social system is under attack by the United States, when the truth is the real enemy is Communist imperialism.

He forgets we are allied with Communist Yugoslavia. It is the tyrannical totalitarianism in Moscow — not some theory of economics — which menaces the peace of the world and keeps hundreds of millions of persons in bondage.

The delusion that the free world can appease or can "negotiate" any kind of settlement with a group of evil men who have lost all sense of honor and morality still prevails in many parts of the world and indeed in this hemisphere.

Lester Pearson, Canada's representative in the United Nations General Assembly, delivered a speech at Dartmouth College in which he, too, made the erroneous assumption that American policy for the last several years has been aimed merely at the destruction of communism as an intellectual philosophy.

Actually, this is a misrepresentation and distortion of the point of view of the American government, as a rereading of the speech by President Eisenhower before the American Society of Newspaper Editors on April 16 will corroborate.

Mr. Stevenson says our allies "need convincing that we are more interested in settlements by negotiation, in reducing tensions, and in stability, than in force and military action," and he added that the West may have to live in a world with communism for a long time, "perhaps for many years."

The former governor of Illinois says the administration here "must begin to talk to the world in terms of what we are for, rather than what we are against — merely being against communism is old stuff in Europe and will win few hearts in Asia."

This is a sad commentary on all the millions of dollars spent by the Truman-Acheson administration for information services and Voice of America broadcasts abroad.

It is a tragic record of the failure of Europeans to take note of most of America's public statements since the Korean War broke out.

Evidently, to take Mr. Stevenson's analysis of world opinion, the United States has simply been ranting against an economic philosophy and this is "old stuff."

Has Mr. Stevenson read of the free food given away to East Germans recently?

Has he read about the promise of President Eisenhower on April 16 to spend for peaceful purposes the billions saved on armament when Soviet Russia adopts the ways of peace — billions that will go toward alleviating poverty and hunger in the world?

One would think from reading what is being said about the United States abroad that America is a bellicose, ungenerous nation, bent on making everybody think alike on intellectual doctrine, and that communism as a philosophy is about all the American government has been opposing.

It's a palpable piece of propaganda which has been spread around the world about the United States and its aims.

When Mr. Stevenson now calls for a clarification of our aims, he is doing a disservice to his own party as well as to the present administration.

The aims of this country have been made very clear under both the Democratic and Republican administrations in the eight years since World War II ended.

What is really wrong is that so-called statesmen abroad in both Europe and Asia are being bluffed by the tyrants in Russia, and are afraid to stand up firmly against despotism.

So they call instead either for "neutralism" or "appeasement," or they avoid the issue by talking about communism as a philosophy, or they adopt the Moscow jargon about "peaceful coexistence."

The American government isn't spending billions to build an army, navy and air force just to fight a so-called intellectual doctrine. The 25,000 American dead and 115,000 wounded in Korea weren't fighting an academic battle on the merits of any economic philosophy. They were fighting the real enemy of freedom in the world — communist imperialism and acts of aggression.

One Fatted Mouse

By TRUMAN TWILL

T Manville Twill, with only half his lives used up, has returned. For the information of newcomers, T. Manville is the tomcat that used to write this column on rainy days. He is the only black tomcat who can operate a typewriter.

Old-timers will wonder what happened. T. Manville has prepared this statement.

"I was a victim of amnesia. When I came out of it, I was in Korea. No one spoke any English.

"When I put it in writing that I wanted the services of a translator, they laughed and accused me of being a dirty capitalistic feline spreading the poison of deviationism among the faithful. That was how I knew I was in North Korea.

"I took pot luck with the Korean kittens, which was nothing to cry about. Then the war began. I never did find out what it was about, except that suddenly a lot of strange pussy cats showed up with red stars tattooed on them in the strangest places.

"I was a spy for the right side all during the war, though in my condition I was not being consciously patriotic. But when my amnesia went away, I was told that I used to go over to the right side with my ribs showing to get a swig of evaporated milk and this revealed to the United Nations that the cats among the North Koreans and Chinese were hungry. That's what is known as counter-intelligence, I think.

"Most of the time, though, I must have fallen in with Greeks, Turks, Englishmen or South Koreans, because I don't remember that I ever heard any English spoken while I was in Korea. Not until after the truce.

"After the truce, I bumped my head going under a low board fence in hot pursuit and it dawned on me that I belonged back at the Twillery in the good old U.S.A. From there on, it was simple. I came by ship with that first load of returnees they made the fuss over. Then by plane.

"I want my friends to know I never was tortured. I never was indoctrinated. I never took any part in the war because all cats the world over are interested in the same thing; i.e., kittens.

"I am glad to be back. The Twills are glad to see me back, because it rains just as much as it ever did, or will when the time comes. There may be other cats that help write columns but no cats that do so on typewriters for the sheer love of creative endeavor like me.

"I have been living up to my reputation while abroad and will continue to do so at home. Except for low board fences, this is not too much of a job, though I will wonder the rest of my lives how I ever got to Korea even in a state of amnesia. Surely I would have noticed it when I crossed all that water — and when I got there, moreover, I was the only foreign feline in the crowd. What do you suppose ever became of Her?"

Frankly, readers, the prodigal's return is acknowledged with misgivings. In the old days, he was unreliable. There'd come a rainy day and T. Manville would be missing. But he is welcome to another chance. A fatted mouse has been killed with the rifle and the nearby neighbors warned to expect a howling winter.

Come Up With That Punch!

Self-Control or State Control?

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES

Two headlines in "Daily Variety," published here, mark the beginning and end of a story which has important artistic, moral, and political significance.

The first, in the issue of March 4, 1953, was "Pix Prod'n Code On Way Out." The second, on August 13, 1953, was "Prod'n Code Will Stick As Is." This specific issue arose over a play and picture called "The Moon is Blue."

A producer first submitted the successful Broadway play of that name two years ago to the Production Code Administration, variously known as the Hays, Johnston, or Breen office.

The administration said that it was in violation of the code, a standard of propriety adopted by the Motion Picture Association of America long ago as a guide by and to all major companies.

The association, it should be noted, was and is composed of the major companies. The producer of "The Moon is Blue," who was not a member of the association, despite this opinion, had a script made and submitted it some months later.

Again, the code administration refused to approve it—in part, because of some of the dialogue, but fundamentally because it was said to violate sections of the code which say that "pictures shall not infer that low forms of sex relationship are the accepted or common thing" and that seduction shall never be the proper subject for comedy.

The producer held that his script did not violate the code and proceeded to make the picture, which he submitted to the administration.

The administration refused its seal of approval, and the producer took an appeal to the board of directors of the association, which upheld the code administration.

The picture was then exhibited in such theaters as were available to a picture thus banned, with advertising saying that it is an "adult" film, or "for adults only."

At this point I wish to state that I am not discussing the specific moral or artistic issues involved. I am concerned with the wisdom of private business regulating itself as an alternative to regulation by the heavy hands of the state.

On that point I wrote a book some years ago called "The Hays Office," which, I may say, met the approval of the trade press in the motion-picture industry as a fair and authentic portrayal of the problem.

In the present case of "The Moon Is Blue," left-wing writers proceeded to go far beyond criticism of the specific decision of the code administration and raised a hue and cry for the abolition of the whole system of self-regulation.

This demand was slapped down by the directors of the association on Aug. 12. Through their president, Eric Johnston, it was made clear that the Code and its Administration would continue.

It has taken many years for the heads of the motion-picture industry to build the faith they now have in their code. But it is now a mighty conviction, a conviction based upon the two propositions which went into the making and adoption of the code 25 years ago.

The first of those propositions is that, unless there is self-regulation, the pressure of religious bodies, parent groups, and other sectors of American opinion will have recourse to the government for the protection of the morals of those who make up the immense mass audience of motion pictures.

The other proposition is that in a highly competitive industry the individual cannot exercise self-censorship alone. To be frank, the members of a competitive industry cannot trust each other and must, if there is to be regulation, resort to joint action.

It is true that there will be differences of opinion as to whether this or that picture should be shown. But some authority must exercise the prudential decision, and in this case it was the code administration.

She's Glad To Live in U.S.

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON

Pat Ferguson is glad she lives in America where she can go to school with boys, have dates without a chaperone tagging along, wear shorts and strapless party gowns, turn on the radio anytime and eat hot dogs.

Pat, 15-year-old daughter of Lt. Col. N. A. Ferguson of nearby Alexandria, Va. spent two months with a family in Portuguese Angola, West Africa.

"But golly, I had a good time," she told me. "I learned a lot about how teenagers live outside America and about the customs of other people, and I even learned enough Portuguese to make myself understood. I also learned that America is one of the luckiest countries in the world."

Pat had some things to tell her Portuguese friends about teenagers in America too. She taught Maria Joao, 15-year-old daughter of Senhor Sousa-Machada, in whose palatial home she was a guest, how to twirl a baton like she does in the Arlington County (Va.) Majorettes.

She taught Maria and her sister Guida, 18, some steps she learned in her ballet class and told them how she played the clarinet in the high school band and how boys and girls in America go to the same schools and have dates for the movies and square dances. She showed the girls her strapless gowns, her shorts and blue jeans, but never put them on.

"The girls don't wear clothes like that over there," she said. "Most of their dresses have high necklines. They don't have dates until they're old, 19 or so, and then they have chaperones. They never get to meet anyone except the children of their parents' friends. When young people meet they never just say 'hello.' The girls kiss the girls, and the boys shake hands and kiss the hands of older women."

Another thing that seemed to impress Pat was that young people never drink milk or have ice cream sodas or drink water out of the faucet.

"Water you have to buy, like you buy champagne," she said. "The children all drink wines, from age 3 on up. The food is good, though, and people just seem to live to eat. But I got hungry for hot dogs and hamburgers and other good American food."

The first thing she got when she returned home was a hot dog.

"I still haven't finished telling my family about all the things I saw and did," she said.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Marion County pioneer school teachers received $10 a month salary and "boarded around" in the early 1830's. The School Committee urged the propriety of having their school taught at low wages in consideration of being promptly paid on the last day of the term. The promise was always kept. In those days only a small portion of the tuition fund was raised by taxation—about from one-third to one-half—and the balance was paid by the householder according to the number of days each one sent a child or children to school. On the afternoon of the last day the householders presented themselves and paid his apportionment.

Daily Bible Thought

"One of his disciples said unto him, Lord teach us to pray."—Luke 11:1. There are clearly defined areas of life when a prayer for daily bread and health and many other things may be asked for, but prayer should also put us in harmony with the Infinite. We should seek world conformity to His will.

The Once Over

Peace-Session Sites

Geneva, Honolulu and San Francisco were suggested by our side for the U.N. sessions to bring a peaceful settlement in Korea.

Geneva, it seems to us, has the advantage of the old scenic effects, properties and costumes. It is away up in the yodeling country and a few yodels, well placed during any U.N. meetings can help.

Yodelers are not easily found on the East River site of U.N. headquarters, and this could account for the tension there. Geneva also has the advantage of being in the Alpine region where St. Bernard dogs are ever ready to go to the rescue of those lost in snow and ice.

At many U.N. sessions everybody seems lost in the snow, in fact, the whole aspect is that of men fighting their way through a raging blizzard. (And not a St. Bernard in the joint!)

This St. Bernard shortage seems odd when you stop to think that from the very formation of the U.N. it was obvious that there would be cold weather and terrible storms ahead.

Our census shows no St. Bernards at all in the New York region of the U.N., where the taste leans to poodles, toy bulls, terriers, Poms and sheepdogs.

A friend of ours strapped a keg under the neck of a sheepdog last month just to boost U.N. morale, but it fooled nobody. There is this, too, that may be said for Geneva: It has the mood of the famous poem "Excelsior," which could well be the theme song of peace seekers working to scale the icy heights of the Kremlin altitude:

The shades of night were falling fast
As through an Alpine village passed
A delegate 'mid snow and ice
Whose banner bore this strange device,
"Excelsior!"

II

"Try not the 'Pass,'" the old man said,
"Vishinsky glowers overhead,
The roaring torrent is deep and wide."
And loud the delegate replied
"Excels.or!"

III

"Oh stay," the Russian said "and rest
Thy head upon a peaceful breast."
"Sez you!" the delegate did roar,
"I wish I knew the Russian for
'Excelsior!'"

San Francisco might be okay for the session. It is tough enough to stand it and has weathered many a similar disturbance. It has the advantage of being near Holywood in case the U.N. sells the fight pictures.

Honolulu? The island is known for tranquility, smiles, peace and romance. Put a floral garland around Vishinsky's neck and what have you got? You've still got Vishinsky. Bring in General Nam Il in bathing trunks and strumming a ukelele . . . . you deceive nobody.

The whole Commie delegation arriving at the peace talks by surfboard would still be unconvincing. The strains of "Aloha" drifting through the convention halls would not make the debates any easier to take.

All three suggestions for the peace talks can be faulted. Our choice for hassal would lie between Battle Creek, Mich.; Council Bluffs, Iowa; Gassaway, W. Va., Rodeo, N. M.; Rugby, N. D.; Forstburg, Md.; Dodge City, Kan.; and Sellpy Eye, Minn.

'Big Switch' Over but No Word

Wife Waits for News of Missing Major

By DON WHITEHEAD

Editor's Note — Pulitzer P ze winner Don Whitehead was a war correspondent in Korea at the time the story of the major about whom he writes here first came to light.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Operation Big Switch has ended in Korea and still there is no word of what happened to "The Major"—the hero of a Communist - ordered death march from Seoul in the early days of the war.

His wife is still waiting after three years for someone, somewhere to end the terrible suspense of not knowing.

She is like thousands of other Americans who had a husband or a son or a father among the almost 8,000 men missing in action. She had hoped her man was still alive and would be among those freed.

Now she hopes there is someone among the returning prisoners who will be able to tell her the fate of her husband. There are undoubtedly hundreds of others with similar hopes.

Here is the beginning of the major's story. Perhaps someone among the returning prisoners might yet be able to write an ending.

The major is William Thomas McDaniel of Ahoskie, N. C. and Albany, Ga. He was stationed at Camp Haugen in northern Honshu Japan, when the war began. He was 35 years old, a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy in the class of 1941. He lived at Camp Haugen with his 27-year-old wife Helen and his two sons—then 4 and 3.

The war had been under way only a few days when McDaniel was ordered into Korea with the 24th Infantry Division. He told his wife it would be best for her to take the children home to North Carolina until he could join them.

A few days after he left, Mrs. McDaniel received a letter. The major told her not to worry. Everything was going to be all right.

McDaniel reached the front about July 15 1950. Elements of his division—commanded by Maj. Gen. William Dean—were fighting a desperate battle for time around Taejon. The Reds had overrun part of the artillery. Even Gen. Dean was down with his troops shooting at tanks.

McDaniel led a foray to recapture howitzers overrun by the Reds. He did, leading his men through a gantlet of enemy fire. And then McDaniel was captured only five days after he entered the fight. He never knew he won the Silver Star for his bravery and a promotion to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

About three months later, we heard the story of McDaniel from survivors of a Red massacre at a railroad tunnel near the little town of Sunchon in North Korea.

The boys who escaped the massacre knew McDaniel only as "The Major."

"He was a wonderful guy," one of them said. "The major risked his own neck to get better treatment for us. He always gave us part of his food and shared his cigarettes and he took care of us at best he could."

McDaniel was forced to march from Seoul to Pyongyang with a prisoner group. Whenever a prisoner died on this death march—died of illness or a Red bullet in the head—the major insisted on a Christian burial. He refused to go on until he had said a prayer over the grave. In each grave he left a bottle containing the name and serial number of the dead man.

A survivor said: "We never would have made it except for the major." And others who escaped agreed.

It was in October 1950 that the Reds put McDaniel and other prisoners on a train which was to carry them from Pyongyang to Manchuria. U. S. bombers attacked the train and it stopped in a tunnel to wait for the shield of darkness. And there the Communist guards decided to kill their prisoners.

At dusk the guards told McDaniel to come with them—that they were going to get food for the prisoners. The major left the train with his captors.

Then the guards took the other Americans from the train in three groups. As the boys sat in the fields with their rice bowls in their hands, waiting to be fed, the guards opened fire. We found 68 bodies Somehow 22 youths survived that night of horror. And they told the story of the major.

"We never saw the major after he left the train," one youth said. "We don't know what happened to him."

For three years Mrs. McDaniel has been hoping someone will be able to tell her whether the major still lives—or what happened at the tunnel after he left the train.

She is living now in Williamsburg, Va. Both McDaniel boys, Tom and John, are old enough to go to school this year. And Mrs. McDaniel has decided to get a job.

"For a long time I couldn't bear to talk about what happened," she says. "But finally I knew I had to face reality. I still hope there will be someone coming back who can tell me something. Anything is better than this."

TWO CUPS OF COFFEE. House investigators heard testimony from Stanley Bishop, a Washington "upster," that he gets a three percent commission on whatever business his clients develop from information he picks up in cocktail lounges and government coffee bars. Bishop told the committee: "If you stand around long enough for two cups of coffee, you will get enough information to last a couple of weeks."

Station Blocks View, Company Will Move It

POMPTON LAKES, N. J. (AP)—The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey is going to demolish a gasoline station so Frank Winters can have a view from his back porch.

Winters opposed the building of a lubritorium wing to the gas station because it blocked his view of the street.

An attorney for the big oil company told the local zoning board last night that they would tear down their old station and rebuild a new one with a lubritorium eight feet back from Winters' property so he can see the town's main street.

Weather No Problem To Homes Using Gas Dryers

The modern gas clothes dryer has given today's homemakers the means to schedule "washday" any day of the week without first checking the weather.

As fall and winter approach many Marion and vicinity homemakers will either schedule their washdays according to the best weather or they will hang the dripping clothes in the basement, bathroom or attic.

Local gas appliance dealers are currently acquainting the public with the many advantages of clothes dryers They point out that there are now 20 brands of gas dryers many of which can be seen on the gas company floor or on dealers' floors.

During the fall months, most homemakers who lack an automatic dryer will take advantage of the few nice days to hang their clothes in the backyard Consequently, some "washdays" will be light and some very heavy. Sudden changes in the weather send everyone scurrying to the clothesline to take the clothes down.

The gas clothes dryer, makes it easy and simple. When the wet clothes are taken from the washer, they are tossed into the automatic dryer Gas heat takes over the job of drying Mrs Homemaker can forget about the clotnes once she has set the dial for just the right dryness—for ironing or for folding and putting away.

The clothes are handled with care as they are gently tumbled in soft warm air in a cylinder that s as smooth as the palm of your hand Turkish towels come out as soft as fleece and chenille spreads look as good as new Bath mats corduroy, pillows and rugs come out fluffy and bright.

And much of the cold weather clothing, such as snowsuits, heavy socks, flannel shirts and blankets dry slowly anytime, especially in the winter All can be dried in the gas dryer.

It s economical because there are no big installation costs and gas consumed is about the same as that from two top burners on a gas range Fabrics are safe because a thermostat controls the heat at a safe level for all fabrics —Adv

Are You Up-to-Date Every Day of the Week Except . . . . WASHDAY?

That's the homemaker who still hangs the family laundry in the yard or the basement.

Up-to-date every day of the week except . . . washday!

A new automatic gas clothes dryer will do this work for her and set the pace for her friends and neighbors. It will give her a freedom she has never known . . . freedom from weather worries.

It doesn't matter what kind of weather — rain, snow, sleet, dirt-carrying winds — the modern woman can take the wet clothes from the washing machine and chuck them into an automatic gas dryer. She sets a dial and she is free from all worries. Gas heat does the rest, damp dry for ironing or thoroughly dry for storage.

Gas dryers are fast — as much as 15 times faster than the old clothes line routine. Lightweight fabrics are ready to iron in 15 minutes and completely dry in 20 minutes. Blankets dry at a ratio of four minutes in the gas dryer to one hour on the line.

Statisticians say that an automatic dryer can save 20 complete working days each year. The drudgery of old-fashioned hanging and hauling washes 52 times a year has been reduced to the 20th century convenience of only a few minutes in the gas dryer.

With an automatic gas dryer a whole list of weather worries are banished. The modern homemaker does the washing whenever she wants to. Plans to do the laundry on a certain day are never ruined by a gloomy, overcast sky which threatens rain at any moment.

Never again will she rush out in a sudden shower to pull the clothes off the line—half dry—just before they are drenched, or splattered with mud. Fingers won't ache from hanging ice-cold towels in a piercing wind or get numb trying to unpin frozen sheets.

The gas dryer frees its owner from the worry of clothes mildewing in a damp basement during inclement weather. Other members of the family won't walk into the kitchen or bathroom and be slapped in the face by wet clothes.

The automatic gas dryer is economical because it needs no expensive installations or connections. It uses all the heat paid for because it shuts off during the last five minutes and clothes dry in "stored" heat. Some family laundries can be washed, dried and ironed in the same morning.

Many Gas Clothes Dryers On Display at Gas Company

Gas appliance dealers here are telling homemakers that they can add square feet to their backyards by using a new automatic gas clothes dryer

The gas dryer eliminates the backyard clothesline—and the yard is free to be used for recreation, relaxation or gardening

Built for modern living, the new gas dryer is simple, smart and compact It takes up only about six square feet of floor space—but adds lots of square feet to the backyard. The shining white clothes dryer matches today's modern washers and can serve as extra counter space in the kitchen or utility room

Instead of taking hours to stretch a clothes line and hang up the wet laundry, then taking it down the modern homemaker simply tosses the wet clothes into the dryer and lets gas do the work She doesn't worry about the clothes line breaking or dirt blowing on her white sheets The clothes will be safely dried, worry free, in the gas dryer right in her kitchen basement or utility room

All the heat paid for is used During the last five minutes of operation the gas dryer automatically shuts off and the clothes dry in the "stoned" heat Gas consumed is about the same as that from two top burners on a gas range A thermostat controls the heat at a safe level for all types of fabrics

Drying time varies according to the weight of the garments the size of the load, the amount of moisture in the clothes and the type of materials being dried

Development of the automatic gas dryer is a giant step from hanging clothes on a backyard clothes line or during rainy or cold weather, in the basement or kitchen

The modern homemaker has new freedom through the use of the automatic gas dryer Now she can devote more time to her family, to other housework, to civic or social activities or to just plain leisure

And for that leisure—she'll have a yard that's free of clothes lines and props —Adv

'Dust Bomb' Possible New Atom Weapon

Radioactive Strontium Source of Potential Food-Killing Power

TUCSON Ariz (AP)—A terrible, but still undeveloped new atomic weapon—a "dust bomb'—someday may be used to render the food supply of whole nations useless

This is the disclosure of a University of Arizona biochemist after 2½ years of secret research here

Dr Wallace H Fuller, working on special assignment for the Atomic Energy Commission, said the fantastically powerful new force could be produced from radioactive strontium

'It could cripple the food supply of large areas of land' Fuller said

Conceivably it might rival even the deadly cobalt bomb as a weapon of war"

The Arizona professor said radioactive strontium could cause sickness or death if built up in sufficient amount 'Potentially it is the most biologically hazardous of the fission products,' he explained

Planes he said could drop it in the form of dust and it would contaminate crops, lands and water supplies

"Radioactive strontium could be introduced into the human or animal body by many means, by contaminated water, directly contaminated food crops or by food crops grown in contaminated soil

'If animals should eat forage such as grasses or alfalfa, that contain radio-strontium the radioactivity would concentrate in their bones

"If large enough concentrations were available, blood-forming cells would be eliminated or injured Radiation sickness or death would result

'In cows or goats, the radio-strontium would concentrate in the milk that is used for human consumption In this way the lethal radiation might be transferred to man

Man also could get it by consuming leafy vegetables as well as other edible parts of plants . . ."

The axe was probably the first weapon or tool to have a handle says the National Geographic Society

Stock Market Hits New Low

Selling Wave Drops Prices for Second Day

NEW YORK (AP)—A selling wave hit the stock market today and sent prices down to a new average low for the year.

The burst of selling spent itself in less than 15 minutes just after the start of the third hour of trading.

Prices then turned up from their lows. Stocks remained depressed, however, with losses of $1 to $4 a share frequent. Some declines went to as much as $5 a share.

Railroads, motors, and steels were the hardest hit, but all areas of the market were under selling pressure.

The current sharp declined has been under way for two days and in the opinion of Wall Street analysts represents a continuation of the readjustment of the stock market to anticipated lower general business conditions later this year and next.

ebb." He said the administration has managed to make almost all employes feel their jobs are insecure.

He referred particularly to the State Department where he said the personnel situation has reached "some sort of nadir" and "internal demoralization is rampant both in the departmental staff and in the foreign service."

Somers asserted the department appears to have "abdicated to the raiders in the short-sighted pursuit of congressional harmony." This, he added, has resulted in an inordinate pressure for "dull conformity."

'Congress Can't Govern'

Somers, repeating that administrative organization and personnel of the executive branch are primarily presidential responsibilities, said:

"Congress can not govern, and to the extent that it is permitted to assume the power to manipulate executive personnel it can only disorganize the executive. This reduces the administration's capacity to accept higher levels of career bureaucracy."

Staats Honored at Retail Board Event

J. Kenneth Staats, advertising manager of The Marion Star since 1946 who recently was named advertising manager of The Portsmouth (O.) Times, was honored at a farewell dinner party Thursday night at the Shangri-La Restaurant, Marion Municipal Airport.

The event was held under the auspices of the Retail Board of Managers, Marion Chamber of Commerce, and was attended by 75 Marion businessmen and guests.

In the program that followed the dinner, brief talks were given by Mr. Hamburg and Sheldon Dodds of radio station WMRN. Thomas McNamara of The Star advertising staff read a "This Is Your Life" presentation on highlights of Mr. Staats' career and at completion of the reading gave the book to the departing advertising manager.

Mr. Babich presented a combination clock-radio to Mr. Staats on behalf of the Retail Board. In his talk which concluded the program, Mr. Staats expressed his appreciation for the tributes paid him at the dinner, named others who should share in the honors and discussed highlights of his 11 years in Marion. He has been succeeded at The Star by Donald T. Grace, former manager of national advertising at The Canton Repository.

Horse Show Set Saturday in Bucyrus

Bucyrans who plan to enter horses include Mrs. June Rowe, whose horse, "Victory Champion," is a three-class champion; Mrs. Kenneth C. Other area horses entered will include the Pendergast Stables of Morral "Little Sandusky," and contest horses by Deb and Don Edwards of Marengo, and Virgil Barber of Fredericktown.

Most colorful among the 12 classes of the show is the Western Parade Class in which the dress of the rider and the rappings and saddle on the horse are featured. Some of the saddles in this class are reportedly worth as high as $4,000.

Clarence Fredericks of Columbus will judge the show which will be under the rules and regulations of the Ohio Western Horse Association. Riders will be competing for trophies, ribbons and cash awards.

agriculture or for the taxpayer."

Asked if his suggestion about other resignations was aimed at Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson and Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, Maybank said Benson has "done nothing except create confusion in the farm belt" and Humphrey raised interest rates "for veterans and homeowners."

Republicans in Congress seemed loath to comment, for the most part, like Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) who said that, although Durkin hails from his state, "Any comment I would make on his resignation would be a shot in the dark."

However, Rep. Kearns (R-Pa), a member of the House Labor Committee, said he thought Durkin's ideas for changing the Taft-Hartley law were "too self-styled."

"Amendments to the Taft-Hartley law will be written here in Congress," Kearns said.

At Chicago, Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell commented:

Feahers are from six to nine per cent of the live weight of a chicken.

ry those agreements out," Durkin said. "In fact, I was told so."

He talked it over with Eisenhower, now back in Denver after a one-day return here, in a half-hour conference yesterday morning. He said Eisenhower asked him to stay on, but he refused.

Asked whether he would have remained had Eisenhower changed his views about the T-H proposals, Durkin replied, "I think so."

Durkin said he had reached a agreement on proposed T-H changes with White House aides he assumed had Eisenhower's authority to take such action. He said they included Bernard Shanley and Gerald Morgan, two members of Eisenhower's staff.

The President attended one negotiating meeting on the matter, Durkin said, and he assumed Eisenhower "had agreed" to the suggested amendments later worked out.

Center St and Central stations were called.

Training Area

Training School this morning, no agreements have been reached between the state and the federal government. Negotiations are now in the process and there is still a possibility that some of the buildings may be bought by the state.

Ohio welfare director John Lamneck, who has been handling the dealings with the federal officials was given the money Wednesday so he would have some capital to back him in his negotiations the school officials said.

No indication of how long the deliberations would take was given.

The entire system, grounds and buildings, was originally appraised at $567,467.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

This was to have been the year of a prize garden for me. Up here in the Berkshires almost anything is supposed to bloom and fructify, if only one plans correctly, tests the soil for the PH factor, weeds the garden once or twice, puts in good seed.

SOKOLSKY

So, we did all that, particularly the planning at which we are past masters, but in the early spring, there was a deluge of rains and many of the seeds rotted.

We replanted carefully, hoping that there would hereafter be light rains, the drizzly kind that plants prefer We could not make a contact on it, but the fact is that this summer we never got that kind of rain, not once.

EARLY IN THE summer, we had a light frost, the teasing kind that does slight damage but enough to make it necessary to scurry around to dealers to buy plants for replacements.

Then up came the peas and the broccoli and all the other things to eat and flowers to look at, and every morning I would walk all over the place, praising the Lord and my own skill as a gardener.

However, one morning the tops of the peas and the young broccoli were chewed off, apparently by rabits or maybe woodchucks, both of which we have plentiful congregations.

Then another morning, I noted that the deer had helped themselves to the succulent tops of the beets. That annoyed me no end because that is the part of the beet that I like best, the green tops, boiled down with vinegar and fresh ground pepper.

WELL, WE HAD a wonderful garden just the same, everything coming up in the right time and the right place until the drought happened. It is now 44 days since we have had a rain. I never planned it that way.

For a few days, we did a good deal of watering, but then the springs began to go down, so we left the vegetables and flowers to the hot sun and hoped for the best The best did not happend. The garden wilted. Some of it died Who dares do a diagnosis?

That I fear is the fate of all planners. The old farmers tell me that the best way to remain an optumist is to put the seed in the ground and hope, because nature is a dirty player and there is no telling what it might do One summer we had a frost every month except in August. Perhaps that is why the farmers up here prefer to work in the woods.

ALL THINGS in life teach a lesson, if only one can learn. And the lesson of this summer proves that man proposes and God disposes. That is why there are dust bowls in spite of all the wisdom of the great planners.

Where there should be meadowland, man insists upon growing wheat and he eventually gets a dust bowl because he has interfered with the balance of nature.

It is like sprinkling everything with DDT which kills bugs but also bees and without bees we can be reduced to a North Chinese diet, eating such a grain as millet which is unfit to eat.

Perhaps the scientists are smart when they make atom bombs and hydrogen bombs, but who knows yet what these enormous puffs are doing to the balance of nature?

MAYBE THAT IS why some have too much rain and others too little this year, or maybe some fool will one day melt the ice at the North Pole and we shall be flooded as Noah's generation was. It is easier for the human mind to plan than it is for that same mind to carry the plan to a damageless fruition.

Charles A. Lindbergh, who has done considerable work in science, once wrote about this tellingly. He said:

". . . Each development of science demands more science to maintain it, more to improve it, more to keep in advance of its use by our potential enemies

"Scientific man is driven faster and faster by his system until he has no time left, no thought left, no appreciation left for man himself. He is dependent for his security on the increasing complication of a mechanistic organization which is already too complicated for him to control. . ."

And to that I can say amen as I gaze upon my waterless cucumbers.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

So this murdered thug, this man who personally smashed windows of his opponents to terrify their wives and kids, who kicked members of the opposition down the stairs, who destroyed little businesses of war veterans because they stood in the way of his growing, power, is the same man who wrote in his union paper that "the labor union is the keeper of the decency and security of its membership."

RIESEL

This hammer - fisted, slain union head, Tommy Lewis, now is being officially mourned by some labor leaders who write in their union papers that "thousands of trade union members mourned the death of Thomas E. Lewis, president of Local 32-E, Building Service International Employees Union, AFL." And these same people, hope, fervently, the whole mess will quietly blow away.

IS THERE NO shame? Is there no one who will speak out to say that unions must not betray their trust and be mixed up in the race track and gambling world" Is there no one to say that this man, who ran the home local which gave the Capone mob its own George Scalise, had no place inside labor?

Is there no one inside labor to say anything but gallant words about this murdered man who, some years ago, at a general membership meeting, shouted, "No court is going to tell me what to do. I'm the boss in the Bronx!"

Is this man to be honored in memory and in the hoary phrases with which labor giants like Sam Gompers and Phil Murray have been laid to rest? For this is the very same man who went to his draft board in 1944 and almost wept as he told it how he had to support a wife and child in addition to his aged parents and should be deferred because of "poverty."

And he was deferred, although, at a membership meeting, the union had voted to continue his salary in full if he was drafted—and there were all sorts of business ventures and autos and all the things a man around town has when he lives high on the hog—everybody's hog.

THIS IS THE man who said of a union opponent's wife, when the labor chief decided to destroy the opponent:

"I don't care what happens to Joe Ach's wife — get the bum out of there"

That's what he told Joe Ach's frightened employer when the latter told Lewis that the wife was seriously ill in the hospital and it might be a good idea to wait before throwing Ach's family into the street and killing his job as a building superintendent. Bossman Lewis was lord of all janitors—they couldn't survive if they didn't recognize this basic law of the jungle.

For years Lewis ruled with furious fists. Seven men lost their jobs and homes, merely for criticizing the "great" man, who all this time would write in his union newspaper column about crusades of workers and farmers "for freedom and liberty and the preservation of institutions . . . and the rejection of the attempt of reactionary forces to gain control of the branches of our national government and destroy the fruitful gains of labor."

WELL, A LOT of people are wearied by these phrases The time has come to match the jargon of the oppressed with deeds Lewis is not the only one about whom such gentle phrases waft in death or other misfortunes.

There is the all - powerful Joseph Fay, who runs much of eastern labor right out of his Sing Sing jail cell He is the guest of New York State because he extorted the slight fee of $700,000 from terrified contractors. Joe Fay and Tommy Lewis operated in the same lucrative area for years, until they began battling each other for power and lucre

Few could seem to care less about their memberships. Once when Fay's lieutenants ,Martin J Parkinson and William J. McGeory, went to a contractor in the area and asked for a $100,000 shakedown, a representative of the company said he'd be glad to pay the $100,000 to the workers on the project — in the form of a wage increase.

PARKINSON, of the Operating Engineers, and McGeory snorted that they were "not interested," as was later sworn to in the court which sent them to jail. Yet we find Fay and his people still powers in the area of Tommy Lewis' old domain, although the District Attorney of New York has said that Fay's past "included acts of double dealing, embezzlement, extortion and tampering with justice."

And the prison records defiritely show that a score of high AFL officials have regularly visited Fay at Sing Sing. Not all of these men are in the 27 AFL international unions, into which the mobs have penetrated If the boys must show such strange solidarity, they can at least spare us their pious pleading for the proletariat which some of them bleed so much

Talking Machines

By Inez Robb

The hardest thing to achieve in this best of all possible worlds is a little peace and quiet. I can remember the good, old days when the only object from which one got any back talk was people.

INEZ ROBB

But we live in a restless age in which science is never willing to leave well enough alone Scientists have now endowed inanimate objects with the gift of speech and a pox upon them. There is scarcely a machine in operation today that doesn't have more lip than a Ubangi.

-:-

WITH INCREASING impatience I have withstood the onslaughts of the talking machine, radio, teevee and the doll that prattles like a magpipe. Through it all, I have bound up my throbbing nerves as best I could.

But science has gone too far Three new straws—all talking—have broken this camel's steely back The first is Mayor Vincent Impelliterri's edict authorizing the installation of radios in New York City taxicabs.

This will enable drivers and citizens to live even more dangerously, and V. Impelliteri to garner another five votes in the November election.

IT WILL PUT me back on my feet, too All my life I have been able to avoid soap operas and do not intend to lower my proud flag Rather than listen to "Mary's Other Husband" en route to the office every day, I shall walk.

The subway is out because the Transit Commission is going to try singing commercials in it.

The second intolerable straw is a new vending machine which when fed a coin will deliver gum, coffee, soft drinks, peanuts or beer and then say, "thank you" A customer will be lucky to get away before it burps in his face.

I do not want to pose as a rigid moralist, but I will thank any machine to keep its distance and not try to engage me in chit-chat or light persiflage. Mama warned me long ago never to talk to strangers and that goes for windy robots.

GIVE A FRESH vending machine a civil word, and before a girl can slap its face, it'll be asking for a date. Unless this trend is checked, no public place will be safe for a decent woman in a thin calico dress!

The third straw is a purse or pocketbook equipped with a tiny music box that plays a tune every time milady opens the contraption Reach into the bag for a lipstick, an address book, the key to the front door, a compact or a pencil, and this bag begins to make like Toscanini.

This is a Swiss invention now retailing for $37 50 up and down Fifth avenue. The Swiss are an admirable people, but they can carry neutrality too far and this time they've done it. Let them stick to cuckoo clocks and money and leave the rest of us to sun dials and wampum.

THIS POCKETBOOK can be had in several different leathers and tunes, which include "Anniversary Song," "Happy Birthday," "The Eyes of Texas," the Third Man theme song, "La Vie En Rose," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," a Brahms waltz, "The Blue Danube" and "Star Dust."

So long as the Swiss were bent upon perpetrating this upon a quivering world, which can scarcely stand another decibel of sound, they have shown scant ingenuity in their choice of musical selections.

There ought to be a purse for the party girl that gives out with "How Dry I Am" and another for the spinster that carols "I Ain't Got Nobody." And nothing could be more practical than a purse that, when goaded, would sing "How much is the minky-y in the window?"

I might be converted and buy if the Swiss would get their heads out of the Alps and rush over a practical model that would broadcast "Brother, Can You Spare A Dime."

Holdup Talk Gets 4 Men in Trouble

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—While watching armored - car guards carry money bags into the federal reserve bank about noon yesterday, four men parked in a car nearby jokingly discussed the ease with which a holdup could be staged.

Their conversation wasn't quite so funny when reviewed later at city jail where they were booked for vagrancy and investigation.

The man who had lounged so casually against a lamp post near their car was Vice Squad Capt. Fred Littlepage.

Alma Mater Will Pay Tribute to Spike Jones

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Spike Jones, the local boy who made good (and loud) in music, will be honored tonight by fellow alumni of Long Beach Polytecnic High School.

The madcap maestro and his zany troupe play an engagement at the municipal auditorium. His old high school friends will present him a huge cowbell with plaque attached.

The plaque will extol him as "The graduate who has done the least for the advancement of good music in America."

BPW Members Present Gift To Dr. Keever in Polio Fight

As a gesture of good will and of interest in the progress of the Magnetic Springs Polio Foundation work of Dr. Kenneth W. Keever of Richwood, the Marion Business and Professional Women's Club presented him Wednesday night with a projected reading machine for use of patients to be cared for at the polio center. The presentation was made at a dinner meeting of the club held at Hotel Harding, in charge of the public affairs committee headed by Miss Kathryn Lusch.

Dr. Keever, guest speaker, told of the purpose of the foundation which will provide treatment for victims of polio. He has done special study and research in regard to the disease, working toward the establishment of the polio center at Magnetic Springs in neighboring Union County. The device for reading which the club presented him is an electrically operated machine which projects on the ceiling pages of reading material which have been put on film. Presented together with the projector, was the library of filmed books owned by the club.

Presented also were two young evergreen trees for the grounds of the center, and each club member received as a "favor" a small Scotch pine tree, with the little trees forming the table decoration. A centerpiece was made of the grouped trees surrounding a candle.

The idea of the trees was in line with the Ohio sesquicentennial slogan originated by Governor Lausche, "Plant a Tree in '53." New program booklets for the club year were distributed.

On the guest list were Mrs. R. E. Conley, and Misses Pat and Jo Walton. The committee serving with Miss Lusch included Misses Janet Geddis, Mary K. Miley, Mary Nisiewicz, and Kathleen Thomas, and Mrs. Helen Meredith.

Blondes Lead 'Miss America' Beauty Contest

Win Three of Four Preliminaries; Final Round Set Tonight

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The gals that gentlemen prefer—blondes—have the edge so far in talent and swim suit preliminaries for the Miss America 1954 crown.

Three of the four lovelies who won in the past two nights of competition in the two divisions are golden tressed. The fourth is a brunette.

Tonight is the last round of preliminaries before the grand finals tomorrow night, when one of the 52 entries will be given the crown and robes of Miss America—plus $50,000 in awards.

Last night's winners who picked up coveted points toward the title were Miss South Dakota, Delores Jerde of Spearfish, and Miss Wyoming, Elaine Lois Holkenbrink of Torrington, both blue-eyed beauties of 19.

With them in the preliminary winners' circle are Miss Pennsylvania, Evelyn Margaret Ay of Ephrata, and Miss Virginia, Anne Lee Ciglis of Norfolk, who took the honors Wednesday night. Evelyn is an ash-blonde and Anne a brunette.

Miss South Dakota and Miss Wyoming won in the talent and bathing suit categories respectively.

An expert piano rendition of "Rhapsodie in C Major" by Dohnanyi made the blonde Miss Jerde the choice of the judges over 16 other contestants in the talent division.

Miss Hokenbrink, an ash blonde, showed up to advantage in a one-piece swim suit to outclass her 16 competitors. She is 5 feet 5½ inches tall, weighs 115, has a 36-inch bust and 24-inch waist.

Eighteen other charmers went through their paces in the evening gown division, but results in this contest are not announced. Points scored for personality also are kept secret.

After all the preliminaries are over, points will be totaled and 10 semi-finalists selected for tomorrow night. One preliminary victory doesn't necessarily mean a crack at the championship round.

GRANTED ASYLUM. Polish Consul Michael Krycun, 40, has broken ties with Communist-ruled Poland and has been granted political asylum in Canada, a Winnipeg newspaper reported. Krycun told the Polish legation in Ottawa "I want to live in a free country as a free man."

Chicago Boy Rescues Girl In Train's Path

CHICAGO (AP)—James Carr, a 13-year-old school patrol boy, snatched a frightened 12-year-old girl from under the wheels of a moving Rock Island Railroad passenger train yesterday.

James, who patrols a crossing on the far southwest side, said four girls were on the tracks when he noticed a suburban train approaching. He chased three of them off the track but the fourth, Kathleen Serafin, told him, "I can't make it, I'm sick."

Kathleen fell as James attempted to drag her off the track and her legs still were lying across the track as the train neared.

Engineer Harold Willet told of the rescue:

"I was making an emergency stop when I saw the boy dart back and pull the girl's legs away in just the split second before the wheels of my engine reached the spot. That was a brave boy."

"I didn't do anything much," James told police in relating the incident. "That's what they gave me this white belt for."

General Will Go Back To Scene of Big Battle

BALTIMORE (AP)—Brig. Gen. P. S. Devereux, now Republican congressman from Maryland's Second District, will return to Wake Island where he and a small garrison of Marines fought against the Japanese in World War II.

Devereux was the major in charge of some 500 men when the island fell to the Japanese Dec. 23, 1941. Before surrendering, the island defenders accounted for 29 enemy planes, a cruiser, two destroyers and an escort vessel.

Now a member of a House armed services subcommittee, Devereux will visit Wake on a round the world inspection junket beginning Sept. 16 and ending Nov. 10.

RUMMAGE SALE PLANNED

Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held Sept. 22 in the Palace Theater building when Whitney Lodge No. 846, Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, met Wednesday night in the Central Labor Union hall. Degree team practice was held. A mystery box was won by Mrs. Betty Smith. Serving on the September social committee are Mrs. Beryl Reichardt, Mrs. Ethel Myers, Mrs. Lucille Jacobs, Mrs. Golda Sellers, Mrs. Mildred Sidenstricker and Mrs. Florence Stumbo.

Crestline Voters Face Hospital Bond Issue

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE — Crestline council approved a resolution to the Crawford County Board of Elections for the $270,000 hospital bond issue, at its meeting Tuesday night. Ordinances authorizing issuance of bonds by the village for street and sewer improvements, and a resolution authorizing preliminary work on a new sanitary sewer line were approved.

The resolution putting the hospital bond issue on the November ballot came after County Auditor Albert Stetzer certified the issue to Council. He estimated 2.7 mill would be sufficient to pay off the bond issue.

Better Than Beer?

A very different brew you'll want to try!

At Carling's we brew both beer and ale—and each is mighty popular. But more and more people are telling us Carling's Red Cap Ale gives them more pleasure than any beer they ever tasted. They say it's light and dry as the smoothest beer, yet with that extra flavor—that "heart" which only a fine ale can provide. They call it the "light-hearted" ale.

Tonight, why not try it yourself? See whether you are one of those who find Carling's Red Cap Ale tastes even better than beer!

Bible Words to Live by

GENESIS 22:8 "The Lord will provide."

This phrase from the book of beginnings and the life of Abraham has held a profound influence over my life since the day of my conversion. Whatever philosophy of life I possess is compassed with the simple truth of this statement.

To say I have been spared all trial would be dishonest. However, a greater dishonesty would be mine if I failed to shout to a world that worry and anxiety are gone. I can look to this simple truth and know that God will provide my real needs.

The calm assurance, even in the face of crisis, supplied by the simple acceptance of this sovereignty of God has made life for me truly free. So much of my life had been spent in looking to the world for my provisions, and the accompanying fear I had of that world because it might withold my desires. Now in Christ, I know peace and security.

Braves Fans To See Bums Clinch Title

Two Game Series Starts Today in Milwaukee Park

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers, the culprits who kept the Braves from winning it, are going to give the Milwaukee fans a chance to see the National League pennant clinched.

It could be tonight It might not be until tomorrow. And of course if the Braves are really inspired the brewing capital population may not get to see it at all, since the Dodgers are in town for only two games.

But since an eventual Brooklyn victory ranks close behind death and taxes as a sure thing, the Dodgers almost owe it to the Milwaukee faithful to win right in front of their eyes. More people have seen games in Milwaukee this season than in any other National League city.

It has been in Milwaukee that the Dodgers have done the most damage to the Braves. They have won seven of nine starts at the Braves' home field. The Braves topped them 6-5 at Ebbets Field.

The "magic number" for the Dodgers is two. Any combination of two Brooklyn victories and Milwaukee losses will seal the deal for Charlie Dressen's club. Since a Brooklyn victory either tonight or tomorrow automatically would mean a Milwaukee loss things look bright for the Dodgers.

The Dodgers broke two home run records although they hit only one home run. Wayne Belardi's blast in the eighth was the 1,101st homer in the National League this season, breaking an all-time loop record. And it was the 195th Brooklyn home run this year, a new high for the club.

In the only other National League game yesterday St. Louis edged New York 7-6. The New York Yankees moved closer to the American League title with a 1-0 triumph over Chicago and Cleveland bowed to Boston 14-4 in the only junior circuit action.

Eddie Lopat outduelled Sandy Consuegra for the Yankee victory with the winning run coming on Gene Woodling's second inning home run into the lower left field stands at Yankee Stadium.

The Cardinals regained sole possession of third place from the idle Philadelphia Phillies with their victory over the hapless Giants. Enos Slaughter's home run in the eighth proved the margin of victory as the Giants rallied for a pair in the ninth.

Browns, Bears Battle Tonight In Benefit Tilt

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears, with only one win in four exhibition games, meet the Cleveland Browns in Soldier Field tonight in the Eighth Annual Armed Forces Benefit football game.

The Browns have scored two exhibition victories and a tie with the champion Detroit Lions

A military pageant will be an added attraction featuring four military bands, drill teams, ski troops, Army sentry dogs, WAVES, WACS, WAFS, and hundreds of soldiers, sailors, Marines and airmen.

Adm. Chester W Nimitz, wartime commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, will be guest of honor at the game. He will present the Eisenhower Trophy to the game's most valuable player

The game is sponsored by the Chicago Sun-Times.

TOURNEY TO BEGIN

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The National Softball Congress Tournament begins here tomorow. Teams from 11 states, including Ohio, and Canada will be represented.

Watkins May Answer OSU's Punting Needs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bob Watkins, 190-pound junior fullback from New Bedford, Mass., appears to be the answer to Ohio State's punting problem.

Watkins returned to practice yesterday after a few days on the bench with a minor infection. Too weak for contact work, he tried his skill at booting the ball and impressed Coach Woody Hayes. Hayes had been wondering who was going to do the punting for State this year under the one-platoon system.

Starting Lineups Not Definite

Prexies Prep for Preview Tilt With Newark Saturday

Harding's Presidents are being prepped by Coach Pete Howison for their "Booster Club Night" preview clash with Newark High School at the stadium Saturday night

Pete has been polishing his team up on everything and after several scrimmages the first part of this week, eased off Thursday and today. The Prexies will go through dummy drills without much contact work as Pete brushes them up on defensive and offensive tactics.

Eight-Minute Quarters

The locals are scheduled for four eight-minute quarters against the Newark eleven. Sponsored by the Harding Booster Club, the game is scheduled as a big event with members of the club urging all Marionites to boost the team.

Newark has defeated Columbus South 7-6 and Columbus West 6-0 in a pair of regulation practice games this year and their prospects this year are reported better than last season. Coach Joe Carlo's club, members of the Central Ohio League, wound up with a 3-6 rating last season. The team is reportedly good defensively.

The visitors have seven returning lettermen, but one is out for the season. Two speedy halfbacks, both trackmen, are Marvin Smith and Jeff Ericksen Smith lettered last year while the latter only played in several games. Newark's fullback will be Roger Matthews, who lettered last season as an end Other lettermen are Tim Rehbeck, a halfback, Joe Bending and George Dupler, guards; and Paul Reed, a center

Harding will likely be outweighed in the line where Newark averages 176 pounds per man The visitors' backfield averages 148 pounds per man

Harding Squad Ready

With the exception of one injury, Harding is set for the game Doug Bibler and Fred Hazen, injured in practice prior to the start of school, are ready for action but Jim Peacock, second-string tackle, will probably miss the game with a bad leg.

Fans will likely see most of the Harding squad in action as Pete attempts to find his best combinations. The gridders will only be able to play 16 minutes due to a state athletic rule governing preseason games for which admission is charged. The varsity will probably play the first half and the reserves the second half

Booster Club members only will occupy Section C which has been specially reserved for them Harding's band will perform at halftime Game time is 8 p.m. and admission will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults

Possible Lineup

Pete is still undecided on his starting lineup. The tentative offensive lineup will have Gene Armstrong 150, and Fred Hazen, 145, or Ted Firsterberger, 155, a 6-2 sophomore at ends. The tackle posts will be filled by Frank D'Eramo, 165, and Bob Hamor, 175, while Abner Thomas, 150, and Whitey Clinger, 155, will be at the guard posts At center will be Bob Caldwell, 155, or Hank Rinnert, 145. Backfield men will be Don Schweinfurth, 160, quarterback; Gary Ballinger, 155, fullback; and Chet King, 165, Bibler, 140, or Joe Albinack, 140, at halfback posts.

On the defensive side of the ledger it will be Jim Whaley, 185, and Bob Prater, 190, at the ends; Larry Harper, 175, and Merv Matteson 175, sophomore, at the tackles; Larry Sager, 150, and Rinnert at the guards; Joe Snouffer, 150, Thomas, Hamor or Clinger in any one of the three spots at linebackers; Fred Price, 140, and Bibler or King at the halfback spots.

Harding's team this year is one of the lighest in years It has 13 lettermen, with five seniors on the team and the main nucleus formed by the juniors and sophomores. The locals are reported to have greater team speed than last year.

The Prexies open their regular season Sept 18 at Columbus against West's Cowboys

Fights Last Night

BOSTON — Teddy (Red Top) Davis, 130, Hartford, outpointed George Araujo, 135½, Providence, R. I., 10.

In the second half of the double main event, Billy Fox downed Joe Cassius in two straight falls Billed as a tri-state gold belt match, the win entitled Fox to retain the belt.

Jacob Rosenfield was disqualified in the opener by Referee Gil Lautzenhiser for fouling Jim Lewis

Parents Meet Harding High Coaching Staff

Parents of the Harding High School football team were acquainted with the school's football program for the coming year at a meeting Thursday night. Approximately 120 members of the Harding grid squad and their parents were guests of the Harding Athletic Association at the meeting in the lunch room of the new high school building.

Coach Pete Howison was introduced to the group by Principal Cecil Gabler and in turn introduced his assistants, Al Beach, Lou Ralston and Jim Lawler. Assistant Coach Don Kay was unable to attend due to a previous commitment.

Pete also called on others for a few words. Kenny Somerlot, athletic coordinator, explained the ticket situation for parents and passed out football schedules. Joe Petrich, scout for the football team, explained his duties, and Darl Gatchell, assistant principal, explained his duties of taking movies of the football games. Gabler explained to the parents the need for the boys to keep their grades at a high level.

Coach Howison explained the training rules for the football team, explaining that cooperation of the parents, is needed to enforce the rules.

William Hamor, president of the Booster Club, said all adults present should be members of the club. He gave a verbal picture of what the club was doing and asked for help to make Booster's Club Night Saturday at the stadium a big success.

In a social hour which followed the serving of refreshments, the parents met the coaches informally.

Double-M Loop Grid Previews Set for Tonight

Claridon and LaRue defend their records in the annual Double-M Six-Man Football preview tonight. It is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m. at Claridon.

The two Marion County teams won both their abbreviated matches in the preview last year and went on to share the league title.

Claridon and LaRue could clash in one of the games. However that won't be known until shortly before game time when coaches of the participating schools meet to pair the teams.

Also taking part in the affair are Caledonia, Waldo, Johnsville, Chesterville and Marengo. The eighth member of the league, Sparta, is not participating in the preview. Waldo is a new member in the league this year, having started football last year.

Teams will play two games Each game will consist of one ten-minute quarter.

The league opens Sept. 18 with Johnsville playing at Waldo. It gets into intensive action the following Friday with a card of four games.

Lomeli Takes Lead In Eastern Open

BALTIMORE (AP) — "This golf course favors the long hitter and good putter," said Ralph Lomeli after playing Mount Pleasant in the first round of the Eastern Open yesterday.

The combination sent him around the 6,895-yard course with tremendous greens in 66 strokes, one more than the record and six less than par.

It gave him an edge of two strokes on his nearest pursuers, Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N. C., and John O'Donnell, Norfolk, Va. Jammed a stroke behind them were Skee Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., Andy Gibson, Baltimore, Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Avery Beck, Kinston, N. C.

Couple Appeal Income Tax Claim at Cambridge

WASHINGTON (AP)—John A. and Petronella Ralston of 1449 Beatty Ave, Cambridge, Ohio, have appealed a government claim for an additional $3,143.96 in 1948 income taxes.

In a petition filed with U.S. Tax Court, the Ralstons contend the Internal Revenue Service mistakenly failed to allow claimed deductions such as depreciation on trucks, tractors and trailers.

Base on Balls Gives Redlegs 6-5 Win in 11th

CINCINNATI (AP) — Even though the National League pennant is dangling within reaching distance, Brooklyn's none too impressive pitching corps couldn't quite reach it yesterday.

A walk with the bases loaded gave the Cincinnati Redlegs the 11th inning run they needed for a 6-5 victory over the Dodgers.

Prior to that three Dodger hurlers had yielded a total of 18 hits. Those 18 safe blows allowed Cincinnati to score the runs that ended a string of 28 consecutive scoreless innings.

Yesterday's tilt ended the season's series between the Brooks and the Rhinelanders and the Dodgers wound up winning 15 games and losing seven.

The Brooks were nursing a 2-0 lead when the Reds ended their run scoring drought in the fifth inning. Bob Kelly, who singled, was forced by Adams. There was another out and then singles by Gus Bell and Ted Kluszewski drove Adams home. Jim Greengrass parked one over the center field wall to give Cincinnati a 4-2 lead.

Bell's seventh inning homer made it 5-2 but Kelly couldn't stand prosperity. Wayne Belardi got a homer in the eighth with one on and the Dodgers tied it in the ninth

That's the way it stood until the 11th home when Clem Labine issued a free ticket to Andy Seminick with the bases loaded.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market fell to a new low for the year today with heavy selling.

The decline extended to all sections of the market. Individual losses of between 1 and 4 points were frequent. Some stocks lost a little more than that.

Volume built up swiftly as prices declined and the high speed ticker tape fell behind in reporting actual transactions on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange. This is the first time the tape has been late since early in April.

Prices were lower at the start of trading today. Sentiment throughout wall street was bearish.

Railroads, motors and steels were most active, but utilities, oils, coppers, distillers, chemicals and other major divisions of the list were also lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 70 cents at $102.10, a new low for the year.

Stocks hard hit by the selling including Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, Pennsylvania Railroad, Illinois Central, Northern Pacific, Sinclair Oil, Texas Pacific Land Trust, American Telephone, Du Pont, General Electric, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Studebaker, Boeing, Schenley Industries, and Paramount Pictures.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

A Memorable Othello

Television has had some fairly calamitous encounters with William Shakespeare, several of which left the Bard bleeding from a dozen wounds. "Julius Caesar" was made into a Fascist morality play which had me tossing in my bed sleepless for several days. "Macbeth" was done by I forget who at a half crouch, the actors grimacing like lunatics. And "Hamlet was transformed into a costumed nightmare in which the actors managed to extinguish virtually all of the dignity and grandeur of the poetry.

J. CROSBY

For some reason, "Othello" manages to escape virtually unscathed when a television producer gets his hands on it. "Othello" — both the play and the opera — have been on television several times, and all the ones I have seen have been memorable occasions. The most recent was the Philco production of "Othello" Sunday night and I thought it was terrific, a word that is not bandied around here very often.

COMPRESSING THE PLAY into an hour — or more accurately its actual running time of 50 minutes — presents some rather special problems, "Othello" being one of Shakespeare's pretty concise plays. Much of the opulence and many of the minor characters had to land on the cutting room floor, an operation that may have left some Shakespeare devotees restive.

But it's a job that had to be done and I think the producer, Fred Coe, and the director, Delbert Mann, did an awfully good job. The play was pruned down to its great scenes; it plunged immediately right into the heart of the matter with Iago, almost matter of factly, announcing his intention to destroy the Moor; and it marched on inexorably toward tragedy, taut as a bow string. There was not a wasted minute, not a moment in which I was not caught and held. There is something to be said for cutting Shakespeare down to its bones.

With such drastic cutting, of course, some of the motivation is bound to disappear but I have always felt strongly that this was Shakespeare's fault. Along with Somerset Maugham, I've always regarded the jealousy of the Moor as being more than slightly improbable, that a strayed handkerchief was not sufficient cause for homicide. But I expect I'm in the minority there.

THERE HAVE BEEN finer casts than those in the Philco production but this was a darned good one by anyone's standards. Torin Thatcher was flown over from England to play Othello and he endowed that tortured personality with the tragic grandeur that he absolutely has to have if he is to make any sense at all.

As Iago, one of the most malevolent in Shakespeare's great gallery of villains, Walter Matthau, a very good actor, was properly sinister, intelligent and almost good-humored in his villainy, though possibly a little lightweight for such great evil.

Olive Deering is an old hand at Desdemona, having almost made a career out of playing it on television. She's a good actress, but as a personality I can't quite envisage her arousing such tumultous emotions in so many men as she is supposed to in this play.

Of course, that's the trouble with a lot of Shakespearean heroines. There aren't many women around who have the stature and sheer physical magnificence that Shakespeare poetry insists they should have.

I'M HAPPY THAT the director, Mr. Mann, kept things fairly simple and forthright. Mostly when Shakespeare is tackled on television, the director falls in love with the scenery and you get an endless succession of shots of porticos and drawbridges and great fluted columns and vaulted corridors and so on.

Mann, while he had a lot of columns and corridors around to fool with, kept them in the background and kept the cameras on the actors. The lighting was excellent but it wasn't, thank God, fancy. Lighting experts have a tendency to run hogwild when they tangle with Shakespeare, too.

Situated in the County of Marion, in the State of Ohio, and in the Township of Prospect and bounded and described as follows:

Being in Section 3, Township 7, Range 20 United States Military Lands, founded and described as follows: Commencing at a stone on corner of Lots 6, 7, 8 and 9. Thence south 3 degrees west one hundred twenty three and one-half (123½) feet to a stone on a post in Lot Line 7 and 8 Thence West two hundred six and five twelfths (206 5/12) feet to a post. Thence south three degrees west 200 7/12 feet to a post in center of township road. Thence south 82½ degrees east 206 5/12 feet, to a post in center of township road and to a lot line 7 and 8 Thence north 3 degrees East 223 3/12 feet to a place of beginning

Excepting from the foregoing described premises the following described lands:

Commencing at a stone on a post at the north east corner of the above described land, thence west 152 11 12 feet to a post, beginning at this post; thence west 53½ feet to a post and the north east corner of Joseph Petit's One Acre Lot Thence south 3 degrees west 200 7/12 feet to an iron post in center of Township road Thence south 82½ degrees East 53 8/12 feet to an iron post in center of said road Thence north 3 degrees East 205 11/12 feet to a place of beginning. Containing after the exception three-fourths (¾) of an acre of land

Said petition further alleges that plaintiffs are the owners of and are in possession of said real estate and that the interest claimed by said defendants is unfounded and without right and constitutes a cloud upon plaintiffs' title to said real estate.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants named be required to set forth the nature of their claim, that said adverse claim of defendants be determined and declared null and void, that said defendants be forever enjoined from asserting said claim, that the plaintiff, Irvin C. Knickel, be adjudged the owner of the West one-half of said real estate, and that the plaintiffs, Robert E Orr and Pauline L. Orr, be adjudged the owners of the East one-half of said real estate and their title thereto be quieted, and for all other just and equitable relief

A RELATIVE MATTER

VIRGINIA, Minn. (AP) — It's never a rarity when amateur baseball players in Minnesota's Iron Range leagues hit one for the relatives. A generous share of the relatives play on the same team. The Orr Pelicans, for instance, have two father-son combinations. Six more of the players are cousins and two others are brothers. Three teams in two different leagues have twin brother combinations and two others have father-son tandems. In 1952 the scorekeepers screamed whenever Orr and Embarass hooked up. There were seven Kings in one lineup and seven Lamppas in the other.

The plastic disc is replacing the letter, in the business life of today's traveling salesman. Audograph dictation equipment, weighing only 16 pounds, is carried by the salesman, who dictates his correspondence on small, thin, light-weight plastic discs. Home-office executives play the disc, and answer on discs, saving time and secretarial costs.

Eight North American animals hibernate during the cold winter months. These are the jumping mouse, badger, bat, gopher, woodchuck, chipmunk, raccoon and bear.
